BIRCH AND BOWERS' MINSTRELS.—This excellent band of minstrels, as we anticipated, drew a very large audience at the Masonic Temple. The large hall was well filled, in fact-an event that rarely occurs on such occasions. Birch and Bowers ninstrels are rather an exception to entertainments of this kind, and we were not, therefore, surprised. Their performance was decidedly amusing and interesting, consisting of songs, numorous and pathetic, instrumental music, fine dancing, a laughable burlesque, and the inimitable Birch. He is himself, in fun and humor, equal to a dozen respectable artists. The minstrels give another of their unique and capital entertainments this evening.

FIRE LAST NIGHT. - About midnight the two story brick warehouse, on the alley back of Third street, between Main and Water, Second and Third, was liscovered in flames. The alarm was quickly given, but the fire had too much headway to be checked, and the building and contents were soon destroyed. It is situated just in the rear of the great Third street fire, and had been used as a tobacco cutting factory, by H. Forsyth. A couple of horses stabled in the lower part of it were taken out safe. The fire was supposed to be the work of an incen-

THEATER .- The sisters Western wear with the patrons of the drama here, it would seem, for The Fast Men" attracted a good house last night The piece was played unusually well, Miss Lucille enacting her part with spirit and vivacity.

To-night the "French Spy," with all its thrilling scenes and effects, is presented, together with one act of the "Fast Men"-a bill calculated to fill the theater, we should think.

TOBACCO INSPECTION .- We believe that buyers and sellers have agreed to a compromise in the nspection and sales of tobacco at the auction warehouses. By this arrangement the regular auction sales go on as heretofore, and farmers need be under no apprehensions of loss or delay in the sale of their tobacco. The inspector appointed by the council has consented to retire .-That is right.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT .- A lady accidentally discharged a pistol at her husband, in a boarding nouse, on Sixth street, yesterday. The ball entered his mouth, knocked out two teeth, cut a piece of his tongue off, and, passing downwards, odged in his throat. Although badly injured it is thought he will recover.

Mound City. - The next sale of lots in this new, thriving, and important city occurs on Thursday, November 25th. We know of no position on our Western waters where the opportunity for invest-Moss, Watson &Co ment is so great. Those who wish to attend the sale can take boats here on Saturday or Monday and reach their destination in ample time.

On the 2d of August, 1858, an election was held for the offices of county judge, county court clerk, sheriff, coroner, and jailer, of Jefferson county. The former incumbents were all candidates for re-election, and the sheriff, county court clerk, and coroner, were re-elected. The former county judge was defeated, and the defendant, Monroe, elected in his stead. The petitioner, Thomas Batman, Wm. K. Thomas, and Richard Phillips, were candidates for the office of jailer. The poll books show that Batman received 3,644 votes, that Thomas received 3,581 votes, and that Phillips received 53 votes. These numbers include the votes set down upon several pages of the poll books. down upon several pages of the poll books, which pages were "not signed by the clerk at the foot thereof," as directed by the statute. If those pages are excluded from the count, then Batman received 3,214 votes, and Thomas received 3,216 rotes. By the first mode of computation, Batman received a majority of sixty-three votes; by the second mode of computation Thomas received a majority of two votes.

A certificate of election was given to Thomas, but Batman insists that he received a majority of ut Batman insists that he received a majority of he votes cast at that election, and was, therefore, uly elected, and is entitled to the office of jailer duly elected, and is entitled to the office of jailer of Jefferson county. He insists 1st, That the certificate given to Thomas is void, because it was not given by the proper officers. 2d, That it was, and still is, the duty of the county judge, the sheriff, and county clerk, to compare the polls and give him a certificate of his election. And they having failed to act in the premises, he has moved for the writ of mandamus to compel them to discharge that duty.

He also gave notice to Thomas that he would He also gave notice to Thomas that he would contest the election, and a contesting board was organized, as provided by law, composed of A. Monroe, County Judge, C. M. Thruston, County Court Clerk, and W. Lynn, a Justice of the Peace. That board decided that he had not given his notice in the time required by the statute, and, therefore, quashed his motion. He insists that his notice was given in due time, and it was, therefore, the duty of said board, and is still their duty, to hear his motion and determine upon the facts, the rights of the parties. He has, therefore, moved for the writ of maudamus against them also, to compel them to hear his motion, and determine who is entitled to the office of jailer.

To the first petition the defendants, Thruston, ounty court clerk, and Megowan, sheriff, have esponded that they were candidates, and were oted for at that election, and thus interested in he fact or issue to be found or determined, and the fact or issue to be found or determined, and could not, therefore, lawfully act in comparing the polls. Besides, Thruston responds (and the fact is conceded) that at the time when the law required that the polls should be compared, he was confined to his bed by sickness, and was, therefore, unable to act. The late county judge responds that he was willing to act, and did act with the two justices, Clement and Matlack, until they resolved to exclude from the computation of votes such pages of the poll books as had not been signed "at the foot thereof" by the clerks. Differing from them on this proposition he retired from the board and declined further to act. This he did with apparent. incoposition he retired from the board and de-lined further to act. This he did with apparent, and, it may be added, with pardonable disgust. To the second petition the defendants, Monroe, ounty judge, Thruston, county clerk, and Lynn, astice, have responded that the notice to contest he election was not given within ten days after he final action of the heard of examinars as he final action of the board of examiners, as re-quired by the statute, and that, therefore, they ad no authority to hear and determine the aintiff's motion. Such are the leading facts, and such the objects f these proceedings. It is obvious that the questons arising upon these facts are of the highest terest to the parties and to the public. These uestions have been argued by the learned council on either side with great earnestness and signal shifts. al ability. For this, and other sufficient causes, it has been deemed not inappropriate to present as briefly as may be, the reasons which have proluced the judgment now about to be rendered. Upon the first petition, three questions are presented: 1st. Has the plaintiff adopted his true and appropriate remedy? 2d. Had he, when he filed his petition, a clear legal right to the office into which he desires to be inducted? office into which he desires to be inducted?—And 3d. Was it the legal duty of the defendants to compare the poll books, and give their certificate of his election? If these questions may all be answered in the affirmative, then judgment should he rendered for the plaintiff.—If any one of them may be answered in the negative, then his motion should be denied, and his petition dismissed. And these questions will now be considered in the order above stated.

1st. Has the plaintiff adopted his true and appropriate remedy? This proceeding is, from its nature, very unusual. The writ of mandamus is not a writ of right. It may be granted only in extraordinary cases, and, as a general rule, will extraordinary cases, and, as a general rule, will never be granted to a party who has otherwise an dequate legal remedy. It is, in the language of Lord Mansfield, "a very beneficial writ, and the nord Mansheld, "a very beneficial writ, and the best method of preserving it, is to be sparing in the use of it." In England, the power to grant it belonged exclusively to the Court of King's Bench, and hence it was there beautifully styled one of the "flowers of that court." This may account for the unusual interest of Lord Mansfield paths writ and explain the caution with which Captain Sullivan, of the accommodation train, on the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad, with several other gentlemen, were on a hunting excursion in Indiana last week. They did not find game very abundant, but killed one deer and a number of wild ducks. We are indebted to Capt. S. for a specimen of the venison, and found it was not at all hard to take.

KIDNAPPED.—Frank Carr, alias Pete Porce, was kidnapped by an officer from Jeffersonville, yesterday, and taken back to that city. As he is accused of robbing a house there, and we don't want such fellows here, officers from that side of the river can kidnap as many chaps of that kind as they please. We sha'n't ask the Governor for a requisition in such cases.

JAILER'S CONTESTED ELECTION CASE.

THE DECISION AGAINST BATMAN.

Judge Muir, of the circuit court, yesterday read his decision in the cause relating to the jailer's contested election, of Thos. Batman vs. W. K. Thomas, the present incumbent. The decision mand the attention of the public. This is the decision:

THOMAS BATMAN VS. E. GARLAND, ETC., AND THE SAME VS. MONROE, ETC.—These causes were, by consent of parties, heard together. The facts were mainly agreed, and are substantially as follows, to wit:

On the 2d of August, 1858, an election was held for the offices of county judge, county court clerk, and coroner, were re-elected. The former incumbents were all candidates for re-election, and the sheriff, county court clerk, and coroner, were re-elected. The former county judge was defeated, and the defendant, Monroe elected in his stead. The petitioner, Thomas Bat them to discharge that duty. This brings us to the third question.

3d. Was it the legal duty of the county judge, county court clerk, and sheriff, to compare the poll books and give certificates of election?

As this matter is regulated entirely by the statute, the inquiry can only be answered by reference to the statute itself. It reads as fol-lows:

reference to the statute itself. It reads as follows:

"The presiding judge of the county court, the clerk thereof, and the sheriff, or other person acting for him at an election, shall constitute a board for examining the poll books of each county, and giving certificates of election. Any two of them may constitute a board; but, if either is a candidate, he shall have no voice in the decision of his own case. If, from any cause, two of the before named persons cannot, in whole or in part, act in comparing the polls, their places shall be supplied by the two justices of the peace who may reside nearest the court house."—Rev. Stat. 238.

It will be recollected that the county judge, clerk, and sheriff, were all candidates for re-election, and the poll books show that they were all re-elected except the county judge. It is unnecessary to inquire whether other provisions of the statuted out for hid the shear of the statuted out for hid.

re-elected except the county judge. It is un-necessary to inquire whether other provisions of the statute do not forbid the sheriff from acting as a member of this board, and from discharging any duty pertaining to an election, when he is a candidate. It is certain that he can discharge no other duty, and it is, to say the least, extremely loubtful whether he could act at all as a member of the examining board. If this should be the case, then, as the clerk was unable to act on ac-of the examining board. If this should be the case, then, as the clerk was unable to act on account of sickness, the petition ought at once to be dismissed. But, as before remarked, this construction of the statute is somewhat doubtful, and it will be assumed, therefore, that the duties and powers of all three are the same.

The whole difficulty grows out of the fact that they were all candidates. If they had not been, it would undoubtedly have been their duty to convene as a board, compare the polls, ascertain the "correctness of the summing up of the votes, and gives triplicate or more written certificates of election, etc." Any two of them might have constituted a board. And if only one of them had been a candidate, he might, notwithstanding that fact, have acted as a member of the board; but he could have had "no voice in the decision of his own case." "In part," he could not have acted. Was not this the condition of each one of the defendants? All three of them being candidates, none of them could act "in vhole," but all of them were disqualified "in part." Now what is the consequence of this state of things? The statute (supra) has provided for just such a contingency. The language is that "if from any cause, two" of the three cannot, in whole or in part, act "in comparing the polls, their places should be supplied by the two justices of the peace who may reside nearest the court house." Here not only two, but all three were disqualified "in part," for neither of them could have a "voice in the decision of his own case!" The plain and obvious meaning of the statute is, that at least two (being a majority) of the board shall be disinterested. That they shall not be interested "in whole or in part," and thus be left without inducement to form hall not be interested "in whole or in part," nd thus be left without inducement to form and thus be left without inducement to form fraudulent conbinations. This is further evident from the fact, that although two are required to withdraw, the third, though interested, may remain in the board and act in connection with the justices, the statute only requiring that at least a majority shall be disinterested. But it is contended, that even if the defendants could not have acted in their own cases still they should have acted in the cases of other candidates, and then given away to the two justices. The statute will not admit of such a construction. But one board is contemplated. This was necessary in order to uniformity in the certificates. Whenever two of the number are unable from any cause to act, "in whole or in part" their "places" are to be supplied by others. They lose their places, or in other words, their membership in the board, and the law plainly requires that a new board shall be formed.

In this case the certificate of the two justices is in the language of the act, and in fact, is a literal transcript from the form presented by the stetute. If as in the case of Newcum vs. Kirtley, it had set forth the facts, then, as a matter of law, it had set forth the facts, then, as a matter of law, it would have been a certificate of Batman's election, even though it had read otherwise. But, such unfortunately is not the case. It simply certifies that Thomas "was duly elected jailer." There is nothing, therefore, in the certificate upon which the judgment of the court can act.

Motions denied, and petitions dismissed with cost.

From the Frontiers. WSSTORE, Nov. 7, 1858.

The Santa Fe mail arrived yesterday, bringing lates to the 18th October. The news is not very mportant. The most exciting intelligence is consined in a letter dated the 22d September, eighty niles west of the San Francisco mountains. The migrant company, by the principal persons of niles west of the San Francisco mountains. The migrant company, by the principal persons of thom the letter is signed, had arrived in safety at he crossing of the Rio Colorado near the Mohave illages. Shortly afterwards they were attacked by 00 Mohave Indians, while most of the white men were engaged in constructing rafts to cross and in herding their stock, when a bloody fight ensued. In this engagement the emigrants lost three men, two women and four children killed, with sixteen wounded. The Indians took all the stock, except nineteen head of cattle and eleven horses. The emigrants then retreated on the return route in the right, taking with them but two wagons, wherein to haul a small supply of provision and bedding for the women and children—the whole party at the date of the letter consistfing of "123 men, 33 women, old and young, and 47 children from the two week babe up."—Soon after the retreat, starvation already staring the company in the face, they for tunately met another emigrant party, who generously shared with them their provisions and comforts. This party, onto 500 head of stock comforts. This party, out of 500 head of stock, had but 154 left—and these were in a most miser-ble condition.

The gold fever is still "high" along the borders, and numbers will leave homes and business in the pring to go in search of the glittering metal.—
The news from the gold regions is mostly favorable, out occasionally such a letter as the following hrows a wet blanket on the fevered patients.—

And if the statute had not in terms forbidden their participation in this matter, it is by no means certain that they might not in this case have answered satisfactorily, we could not act as judges in our own causes." For, as was well said by defendants cousel, "the law never requires of a gentleman that which a gentleman cannot do."

But it is contended that the certificate given by Messrs. Clement and Matlack is void, because they were not the two justices "who resided nearest to the court house." It seems that although they are the justices of the district in which the court house is situated, and have their offices within fifty yards of the court house, it has been ascertained that one of the justices of another district "resides" a few feet nearer to the court house than they do. Suppose this to be true, and that the two justices had no power to act, does it thence follow that it was the duty of these defendants to get? The question is not whether Messrs Clement and in the Courter office. This is as it should be, as we conside the Union controlled as it is in Louisville, worse the fact the hands who work there, as "rats," had suit brought against them on day as "rats" had suit brought against them on day in the employ of the C rier office. This is as it should be, as we conside the Union controlled as it is in Louisville, worse the flick of the court office, and the hands in the Courte office. This is as it should be, as we conside the Union controlled as it is in Louisville Journal office.

They have persisted in publishing the Courie office, and the hands who work there, as "rats," had suit brought against them on day as "rats," had suit brought against them on day in the Amada in the Courter office. They have persisted in publishing the Union to publish the hands in the Courier of as "rats" had suit brought against them on day last, by the hands in the employ of the Crier office. This is as it should be, as we consid the Union controlled as it is in Louisville, worse than no Union at all. Its whole movements and acts are, as we have always understood, been managed and controlled by the selfishness of the printers employed in the Louisville Journal office.—They have persisted in publishing the Courier office, and the hands who work there, as "rats," yet they are, in accordance with the second artioffice, and the hands who work there, as "rats," yet they are, in accordance with the second article of the constitution, no more liable to be published as rats than the "committee" themselves. The Courier office has always paid higher wages for hands than any other office in Louisville, yet, from the fact that the Union could not bully over W. N. Haldeman in a difficulty they had in regard to "Sunday work," some four years since, they still persist in publishing their "rat" circulars, to the private injury of their fellow craftsment of the "stick and rule."—Owensboro Democrat.

ton Journal, of yesterday, says: he spirit, intent, and real meaning of the statute, hey were the two justices who ought to have actd. It is sufficient here that it was the duty of count of common pleas in this county, the like of which we do not recollect ever to have heard of some two justices, either these or others, and, therefore, not the duty of the defendants. It follows from what has been said, that the defendants were not competent members of the examining board, and that they cannot be required by writ of mandamus to discharge duties which they were legally disqualified from performing, and which law has devolved on other officers.

The motion against the contesting board presents but two questions, and these will now be briefly considered:

1 Has this court the power, by writ of mandamus, to compel the contesting board to hear and decide the motion of the plaintiff, if it was their duty to have done so?

2. Was it the duty of the contesting board to hear and decide the motion? As this question must be answered in the negative, a discussion of must be answered in the negative, a discussion of a sk him to lend you a hundred dollars.

The Mandamus Decision.

We publish this morning the opinion of Judge Muir, rendered yesterday, in the case of Batman against Thomas. By this decision, Thomas will retain the office of jailer of Jefferson county, given to him by those knavish 'squires, Clement and Matlack, contrary to the will of the people fairly expressed at the ballot box. He will, at least, retain the office thus usurped, unless the court of appeals shall reverse the decisian of Judge Muir. Of course Capt. Batman will be expected, by the people who elected him, to take this case to the appellate court.

The crowded state of our columns, caused by the letter list, and the length of the decision itself, prevents our making extended comments upon his decision this morning. We shall pay our respects to it hereafter. In the meantime, those who are in favor of popular sovereignty can reflect upon the conduct of those who have thus defied the will of the people, fairly expressed at the ballot box, and turned out Capt. Batman, whom the people said should have this office, and put in Bill Thomas, the chairman of the K. N. executive committee, whom the people said should not have it. If such shameful outrages upon the popular will are to be committed with impunity, nd our courts of justice afford no remedy, then we see no further use of elections. Better let Squires Clement and Matlack fill all offices according to their sovereign will, without the expense of ballot boxes, and sheriffs, and clerks,

Boat and Cargo Total Loss. TWELVE LIVES LOST.

The steamer Fulton City, Capt. Z. M. Brickell, bound from Pittsburgh for St. Louis, with a cargo of $00 tons of Pittsburgh manufactures, iron, glass, etc., while passing Buffington Island, about 5 o'clock, Thursday morning, struck a stump or root, tearing off about fifty yards of her larboard side. She went down in three minutes, floating some forty or fifty yards plow where she struck. some forty or fifty yards below where she struck and lies in the channel, with the water up to the top of the tables in her cabin. The cabin passen-gers barely escaped with their lives, by clambergers barely escaped with their lives, by clambering to the hurricane deck—the majority of whom lost all their baggage, and being asleep, saved very little of their clothing. Twelve deck passengers—two women, two children, and eight men were drowned. The Melnotte, Capt. The stairs leading from the ladies' cabin to the hurricane roof gave from the ladies' cabin to the hurricane roof gav way when the boat struck, rendering it difficul for the ladies to escape to the hurricane deck.— They waded through three feet water in the cabin, and were pulled out over the roof. Failure to Connect on the U. G. Railroad-Ten Runaway Negroes Captured.

A day or two ago, one or two parties called at the office of the U. S. Marshal, in this city, to obtain information concerning the negro slaves that had run away from Mason county, Ky., a few nights previous, and were no where to be found. It was supposed they had come here, and were concealed in this vicinity; but while plans were formed for recovering the fugitives, intelligence was received of their capture at a point neare

It appears that a free negro woman, residing in this State, on the Ohio river, nearly opposite Maysville, had made an arrangement with the slaves to leave their master—had, indeed, influenced their minds with a desire for freedom, and taught them the best means of escape. They were to come, at a certain hour of the night, to a certain point on the river, where the woman's husband was to be in waiting with a skiff, and bring them safely to this side—the woman herself crossing over to lend her personal aid to he enterprise.

The boat and the man were there, but the ne groes missed the locality, getting about a mile below the point, and not knowing what to do in the unexpected emergency. While they were in this perplexed condition, a party of Kentuckians, who were on their trail, suddenly came upon them, took them all captives, and carried them back to their masters. The Kentuckians afterward arrested the free negress and lodged her in jail, whence, it is supposed, she will be sent to the penitentiary for life. Her husband made good his escape.

The slaves had concealed themselves, accord ing to instructions, for nearly two days after their flight, in which they would have been perfectly successful but for their topographical blunder, by which their masters saved $8,000 or $10,000. Cincinnati Enquirer.

TO THE AFFLICTED LADIES! Patent Improved Abdominal Supporter.

THE object of this invention is to provide for a prolapsed condition of the abdomen, a healthful and properly distributed support to all internal organs, capable of nice and ready adaptation to the changing condition of the patient, and can be made to form an article of wearing apparel capable of being washed as any other customary garment. Afflicted ladies will find this Supporter far superior to all others made of steel, horn, leather, or India-rubber, which are so unpleasant to the person. My Supporters are manufactured of any woven fabric, such as Muslin, India Twill, Linen or Siik, &c. This Supporter has been in use for the tast two years, with the greatest success, by some of the first ladies of New Albany, Louisville and Cincinnati, and a number of ladies throughout the country. References of ladies that have used them can be seen by calling at the residence of Mrs. MILLIGAN.

Physicians are respectfully invited to call and examine my Supporters.
